Printing Instructions:

Print pages 1-5 normally. Print pages 6-101 double sided (follow your printer's instructions). Print out preferably on card stock. Use as giant flashcards or hole punch and place in a binder.

Teaching Instructions:

Some tips for using “Read Hebrew Today” with a group. When you see the Hebrew letter, simply say “this letter says,” in place of the Hebrew letter. For example, “ב Says b”, would be said: “this letter says b.” This allows even a teacher who is a beginner at Hebrew, to teach the language successfully and with ease.

Easy Reading Tips:

Hebrew is read from right to left.

Vowels are written under or after the consonant.

“Ch” makes a guttural sound as if you were clearing your throat. (example: Bach and Loch)

In English, remember long vowels say their name. Note

the following sounds:

Long Vowels:

a: skate

e: Pete

i: kite

o: yo-yo

u: mute

Long vowels are also represented in English like this: ā, ē, ī, ō, ū.

Short vowels are as the following:

a: cat

e: bed

i: hit

o: hot

u: hug

Short vowels are also represented in English like this: ă, ĕ, ĭ, ǒ, ŭ.
